Follow the Star 2018

Partnership videos

Churches are involved in many social and campaigning projects across the diocese that greatly contribute to the good of their communities.

This work ranges from fighting to end modern slavery, helping the lonely, supporting people in their workplace and joining citizens campaigns that call upon our politicians and leaders to create a fairer, stronger society.

The Department for Partnerships & Mission supports much of the work that takes place and has

The diocese is supporting the Church's national Christmas campaign - #FollowtheStar - with its own star-themed initiative during Advent.

The communications department has a quantity of locally-made ceramic stars in gold bags that are available to those wanting to take part in the campaign.

It is hoped that congregations will give the stars to family, friends and neighbours as a way of inviting them to a Christmas service. The stars are not intended to be gifts for regular worshippers, but should be used as a means of reaching out to new people.

The stars, which are threaded so they can be hung on trees, will come with a Christmas message printed on a card and a link to the diocesan

Meet our newest interns

Mmeet the latest group of diocesan interns who are spending a year together seeking to grow as disciples of Christ. They are taking part in the programme run by the diocese's Younger Leadership College which will also see them working in placements at local churches.

Charlotte Green

I'm Char, I'm 24 and I was born and bred in Southwell. I'm an English graduate with a strong history in youth and schools work. I have a real passion for worship, broken people and speaking about mental illness and singleness in the church. This year I'm looking forward to continuing my work at The Potting Shed Church and seeing what God has in store for the rural community. I'm also excited to go deeper with God and discern more of His purpose for me.

Laura Jowett

I'm the Comms Intern at St Nics. I'm from Huddersfield but have just graduated from NTU in Business Management and Accounting and Finance. Apart from this I love shopping, a good brunch and an afternoon of baking. I'm so excited for the year ahead as a YLC intern - to learn, to grow and to discover together with the other interns. I'm also so excited to see how God will work in and through me.

Alice Nicholls

I'm Alice and I'm 23. I recently graduated from the University of Derby with a BA Hons in Early Childhood Studies. My passion lies within teaching and my hope is to one day fulfil that goal but for the next year my focus will be working for my church, St Werburgh's, Derby, as an intern. I'm looking forward to deepening my faith and my relationship with God. I'm also hoping to develop my gifts and stretch myself further into a deeper connection with God, developing my sense of purpose and learning ways in which I can be the best version of myself and the best version God wants me to be.

Dave Barlow

I grew up in Devon and lived in the same house for the first 18 years. I'm passionate about sport and rock music - I run a rock music website. When I was 18 I took a gap year and moved to Exeter to do youth work with a focus on mission. I then moved to Bournemouth university where alongside working for a sports psychology degree I became President of the CU and got involved with the then new HTB church plant called St Swithun's. I took a sandwich year before my final year to work for them doing student ministry and pastoral care. It was here I thought about ordination for the first time and started the process of selection but decided it was best to wait until after my degree. This led me to YLC as I wanted to take a year to intentionally seek God's will.

Abi Gledhill

I am 19 years old and have just finished a two year course in Art and Design in Derby, where I have lived for 12 years, and am now doing a year-long internship at St Werburgh's Church. This year I am looking forward to being able to grow in confidence as a leader, particularly in leading worship. I wish to grow spiritually, have a stronger foundation in my faith and to learn lots in order to develop into a young leader.

Charis Hart

I am a recent theology graduate, and I came to the Younger Leadership College to learn what it looks like to be a leader in the church and beyond, and to really spend time thinking and looking at how I can become a Christ-centred leader. I am looking forward to exploring different aspects of church ministry and what it looks like to work in the church full time. In particular I am looking forward to working with young people and helping them to explore who God has made them to be and what he is calling them into. Also I am excited about helping young people come to greater understanding of God's word.

Aredee Pericleous

I'm 18 years old and have just finished an art diploma at Derby College. I was particularly interested in Fine art, photography and writing. I wanted to explore other options before doing something art related at University because it is something I have just been so focused on my whole life. Being new to faith I thought this would be a perfect opportunity for me to have a year out to grow my relationship with Jesus, learn more, discover my purpose and be open to change.

Anna Welfield

Hello all, I'm Anna, I moved to Nottingham a year ago with my husband Phil and have been part of Trinity Church Nottingham since. I started as the kids' intern with Trinity this September. I'm excited to be part of this inspiring team and to be part of helping to shape the next season for the children's ministry. I'm looking forward to getting stuck in and to learning more about Jesus.

Lois Carter

Hi, I'm Lois, from Nottingham. I am the connections intern at Trinity Church Nottingham. I have recently spent six months in the US working with a homeless charity in Seattle and traveling around the states. In my spare time I like baking, spending time with friends/family and going for walks in the country with my dog. This year I am really looking forward to developing community in and around the church family.

David Riggs

I am 22 and from Bournemouth. I have spent the past three years studying theology at the London School of Theology. I love sports, especially football and basketball. As an intern at St Margaret's I'm looking forward to helping start a youth ministry, building relationships and doing mission in the local community. I'm so expectant that God will do great things.

Emily McDonald

Hello, my name is Emily McDonald and I'm the Ministry Intern at Christ Church Chilwell. I'm 19 and have moved to Nottingham from Doncaster to spend a year deepening my faith and exploring a possible call to ordained ministry. I'm really excited to get stuck in to all aspects of ministry and to see how God will work in and through me this year.

Morgan Smith

I am an early twenty something and have lived and studied sports science at Nottingham Trent University for the past four years. I am originally from rural Hampshire and was brought up within a Christian household where I attended the local parish church. This gave me the foundations on which I have tried to base my life. During my time at university I developed my passion for Christ's work, particularly outreach. I have done this through overseas mission trips as well as being involved in programmes in Nottingham. Working as an intern within the Ministry of Sport will present an opportunity for me to combine my two biggest passions - faith and sport.

Laurie Woodgate

I love how God challenges our thinking, norms and daily logic. The big ideas get me rather excited. Place me in a poignant sermon or a "hearty" discussion at the dinner table and I'm happy. I'm pursuing a career in teaching and this year I'm most looking forward to discussing life with others and sharing the Good News in churches, schools and elsewhere.

Loneliness - laying the foundation for change

On October 15th the Government published "A connected society : A strategy for tackling loneliness - laying the foundations for change".

‘This strategy highlights the importance of social relationships to people’s health and wellbeing. By social wellbeing, we mean our personal relationships and social support networks and the way these can bring happiness, comfort and resilience, adding to our overall wellbeing’.

Sometimes people experience loneliness because of a major life event such as bereavement, relationship breakdown, unemployment or retirement. Sometimes individuals are lonely or isolated because of the jobs they do, for example some farmers. Maybe loneliness is a long term experience due to illness, disability or looking different. Quite often there may be a deep spiritual malaise due to a lack of meaning or purpose.

Of course, rarely will a person admit to others, let alone themselves, that they are lonely, but it is part of the human condition. Sadly it can lead to many health problems, hence the government’s new strategy.

Across the diocese, churches and Christian groups are engaged in many ways by offering understanding, support and practical opportunities to help people tackle a sense of loneliness and isolation.

For example trying to give opportunities to men to gather together through Men in Sheds and related activities such as gardening or handy teams to carry out simple repairs. Carlton, Hucknall, Kirkby in Ashfield, Calverton and Eastwood are just some of the places that are active.

southwell.anglican.org

In rural areas the diocese works in partnership with Nottinghamshire Rural Support to support farmers and their families who at times may feel isolated for all sorts of reasons.

There is a helpline, volunteer caseworkers, a nurse every week at Newark Livestock Market and a chaplain. For further details:
www.nottsruralsupport.org.uk

Nottinghamshire Rural Support

Helping farming families in Notts

Transforming Notts Together is helping churches develop Places of Welcome (see last month’s Nifty).

These are opening from West Bridgford to Worksop, inner city

Nottingham to more rural settings.

For further details: Hannah Buck, Development Worker: 07734 994 637, email: hannah.buck@transformingnotsttogether.org.uk

Of course, many, many churches offer hospitality and welcome every Sunday through worship, and during the week through countless opportunities for people to meet together and develop friendships. Parent and Toddler groups, messy church, lunch clubs, house groups etc.

Clearly the needs in society are great but churches are well placed to offer company, support and friendship to people of all ages and circumstances. But we need to be more focused on invitation as well as welcome. Christmas can be extremely difficult for those who are lonely. We can all be more intentional about asking a neighbour or a colleague to join in with something at Christmas.

‘Come with me/us’ is more helpful than simply information about a carol service or mince pies and mulled wine.

The church can offer friendship and fellowship, but more importantly God, through Jesus, offers meaning, purpose and communion with the One who made each person in the image and likeness of the Trinity, for whom each person matters totally. “Thou hast made us for thyself, O Lord, and our heart is restless until it finds its rest in thee”. St Augustine of Hippo

Curates on Natal trip were excellent ambassadors for the Diocese

Natal Link Officer, Barbara Holbrook writes:

This October five of our curates visited Natal. Our link officer there, Dane, worked really hard to ensure that they had a full and varied timetable. They were shown great hospitality by those they visited – who appreciated the time they spent together. Over the coming months, we will hear their reflections from the visit. They were good ambassadors of our Diocese.

Dane writes: “It is already a week since the five curates and Maureen arrived back in the UK following their two week visit to Natal Diocese.

“The two weeks were quite intense due to the distances travelled and exposure to as much as was possible..... having hosted a number of groups since 2003 from your Diocese, this group was again an absolute pleasure.

They acquitted themselves as excellent ambassadors of your Diocese and were well received by their hosts and visiting parishes who had nothing but compliments”.

A pressing but thoroughly enjoyable and beneficial time was had by the curates, Maureen and all they were involved with.

We are grateful to Dane for all his work. It is not easy planning such a visit.

Quite Days at Sacrista Prebend for 2019

The 2019 programme of Quiet Days at Sacrista Prebend, Southwell, is now published and can be picked up from Sacrista Prebend, Southwell Minster or on line (sacristaprebend.wordpress.com)

All are welcome but please note that some are booking up quickly now. The first two are...

9th February The Revd Canon Valerie Rampton
Loving God has four elements: 'Rest, Reverence, Obedience, Delight'

The quotation comes from John Owen, a 17th Century Puritan. I'm sure we'll have heard plenty about obedience, and perhaps a bit about reverence, but probably very little about rest and delight. In this day we'll learn a bit about John Owen, explore rest, reverence and delight as ways of loving God, and have a nod at obedience.

Tues 12th March Canon Angela Ashwin
Roots and Fruits: Trust, Vulnerability and Gift in the Christian Life

Jesus often uses the imagery of plants, seeds and fruitfulness when speaking about discipleship. On this Quiet Day we will explore what it means to be 'rooted and grounded in love' (Ephesians 3), abiding in Jesus and being pruned in order to bear his fruit (John 15) website where a list of Advent/Christmas services and events will be posted.

Churches can, of course, include information on their own services and events with the stars. The number of stars per church will initially be limited to 40 as demand is expected to be high.

To order your stars please contact Nicola Mellors:

Keeping our churches visible, open and alive so that God's presence is evident in all areas of the diocese for both urban and rural communities, is vital to DAC work.

The DAC continue to help and encourage works such as re-ordering schemes, toilet and kitchen developments, new seating ideas alongside repairs and general maintenance works. We provide guidance, advice, practical knowledge and skills.
