

DAC Advisers & Other Advice

DAC Advisers

Other advice

The role of the DAC is to advise the Chancellor on all matters relating to the care and conservation of churches. The role of DAC advisers is to give advice to a DAC on matters requiring particular specialist knowledge, to help them fulfil this role. A DAC will be asked to advise the Chancellor on a range of matters: aesthetic, technical and pastoral. To assist with matters where specialist knowledge is necessary the DAC may have advisers in a range of disciplines, the most common being archaeology, organs, bells and clocks, while others include liturgy, stained glass, heating, lighting and landscaping. Advisers in these and other specialist areas provide an extremely valuable service to the DAC.
